

Questions to Ask After a Round

---

These are some great questions to ask yourself after the round and to provide some feedback in case you speak with or email a college coach.

Keep these on hand, write them down or print out some extra copies.

1. What did you learn today?
2. What part of today's round do you want to remember?
3. Was there a specific turning point in your round today?
4. What was your main focus on the course today?
5. What is one thing you would have done differently today?
6. What can you take from this round to prepare for your next tournament?
7. What can you take from this round to help you practice better?
